

Learning Objectives

MedBridge

Motor Speech Management in Patients with Complex Movement Disorders

Michelle Troche, PhD, CCC-SLP

Course Objectives:

- Describe the role of the principles of neuroplasticity in developing the treatment plan for people with Movement Disorders.
- List several empirically tested approaches for the management of motor speech disorders in Movement Disorders.
- List some specific challenges associated with the management of motor speech disorders in Movement Disorders.
- Describe how these specific challenges should be addressed in the development of the treatment plan.