

Learning Objectives

MedBridge

Management of the Critically Ill Aging Client with Type 2 Respiratory Failure

Jennifer Ryan, PT, DPT, MS, CCS

Course Objectives:

- The participant will understand the pathophysiology of COPD exacerbations in aging clients.
- The participant will understand the evaluative hemodynamic measures used to determine a patient's readiness to participate.
- The participant will understand the evaluative pulmonary measures used to determine a patient's readiness to participate.
- The participant will understand the evaluative hemodynamic measures used to determine a patient's readiness to continue versus terminate an intervention.
- The participant will understand the evaluative pulmonary measures used to determine a patient's readiness to continue versus terminate an intervention.