
Learning Objectives

MedBridge

The Role of the Nurse in Care of Persons With Mild Stroke

Michelle Camicia, PhD, MSN, CRRN, CCM, NEA-BC, FAHA

Course Objectives:

- Discuss the risk factors, etiology, and signs and symptoms of mild stroke
- Recognize the common deficits of mild stroke on cognition, language, mood, ADLs, mobility, sleep, and fatigue
- Identify rehabilitation interventions that improve function after mild stroke
- Describe ways that mild stroke can impact the family
- Compare common psychosocial effects of mild stroke that impact the survivor and family
- Understand the effect of mild stroke on vocational activities